ROSEDALE BIBLE COLLEGE

PRESENTS

Evangelical Anabaptist Symposium 2006

“True evangelical Faith...” Evangelical Anabaptism in Action

November 16 – 18, 2006

True evangelical faith cannot lie dormant. It clothes the naked, it feeds the hungry, it comforts the sorrowful, it shelters the destitute, it serves those that harm it, it binds up that which is wounded, it has become all things to all people.

Menno Simons – 1539

The first of a three-part series on engaged, evangelical Anabaptism

The vision of Rosedale Bible College (RBC) is to be a center for the advancement of an engaged and evangelical Anabaptist faith. To that end, RBC is hosting this symposium, welcoming members of the Anabaptist and Evangelical communities to gather and explore the unique perspectives of contemporary evangelical Anabaptism.

Evangelical Anabaptism in Action is the first such gathering, and you are invited to join us as we discuss, pray about, and work on building up a church that practices the “true evangelical faith” described by Menno Simons: a faith that not only clothes the naked and feeds the hungry, but also “manifests itself in all righteousness and works of love” and “seeks that which is lost.”

This year’s topic is the first in a series of three symposia examining engaged and evangelical Anabaptism.

November 16-18, 2006 – “True evangelical faith...” - Evangelical Anabaptism in Action.

November 15-17, 2007 – “Knowing Christ” – Renewing an Evangelical Foundation

November 13-15, 2008 – “Following Christ” – Discovering a Vital Biblical Anabaptism

We invite you to be a part of this year’s exciting event as we wrestle with how followers of Jesus effectively engage a lost and violent world.

Ron Sider

President and founder of Evangelicals for Social Action, Ron is a tireless advocate for a biblical response to social injustice. His 1977 book, Rich Christians in an Age of Hunger, is on Christianity Today's list of the 100 most influential books in religion in the 20th century. Ron completed a Ph.D. in history at Yale, and is professor of theology, holistic ministry and public policy at Palmer Theological Seminary in Pennsylvania. He lives with his wife, Arbutus, in Philadelphia.

James Rhodes

James is a longtime advocate for the sanctity of human life and the need for peacemaking. His doctoral work at San Francisco Theological Seminary focused on a consistent nonviolent ethic of life. James has served as a peace resource person in the Southwest and Virginia Mennonite Conferences, and currently pastors at Salem Mennonite Church (West Virginia). He has taught ethics and history as adjunct faculty at both Eastern Mennonite University from 1995-2006, and at RBC. James lives in Harrisonburg, Virginia, with his wife, Leanna.

Jon Showalter

Jon is RBC’s academic dean and brings a historian’s perspective to his classes, which include Peace, Justice, and Simplicity, and Anabaptist History and Theology. Jon earned his M. A. at Trinity Evangelical Divinity School and has done doctoral studies at Ohio State. He is also associate pastor of Shiloh Mennonite Church (Resaca, Ohio) since 1997, and lives with his wife, Dawn, and their four sons in Rosedale, Ohio.

Eric Kouns

Eric’s experience as executive secretary of the Evangelical Anabaptist Fellowship from 1992-2001 attests to his interest in the development of strong ties between the evangelical and Anabaptist communities. He earned his M. Div. from Eastern Mennonite Seminary, and has been a member of the RBC faculty since 1995. Eric and his wife, Shirley, live in Rosedale, Ohio.
